Lake Erie College Sesquicentennial 1856-2006

Marketing Campaign Begins, Green & White Ball Photos, Football Announcement, Honor Roll of Donors and more!
Students at Lake Erie College are notorious for their competitive spirit when it comes to athletic endeavors. Whether participating in an everyday recreational activity or competing on an intercollegiate sport team (such as tennis, basketball or track), Lake Erie athletes have always been competitive!

In early Commencement days (through 1967), the graduation celebration would last for up to four days. During the early years of the College, Commencement was often held outside in the Grove, but later moved into Morley Music Building after its construction in 1927. The multi-day events often included a traditional church service, athletic events, dramatic presentations and a president’s reception.

Today, students participate in many equestrian clubs, intramural programs and ten intercollegiate athletic programs including soccer, cross country, golf, basketball and baseball for men and soccer, cross country, volleyball, basketball and softball for women. The Athletic and Wellness Center also offers a fitness room for everyday workout sessions.

Today, the ceremony lasts only one day. Today, Commencement remains an important College tradition and has been held on the College Green for many years. Students enjoy a special Commencement speaker, listen to the sounds of a brass band and receive their diplomas on the south porch of College Hall. The day wraps up with a reception for family and friends in the Arthur S. Holden Center.
Message from the President

Dear alumni and friends,

My first five months in office have been a whirlwind of activity and I am pleased with the progress we have seen. I have worked tirelessly to schedule as many meetings as possible with community members, businesses, civic leaders, alumni and potential donors and have worked to build a strong relationship with the current College Board of Directors. My goal is to increase awareness of the College, grow enrollment, look for new revenue streams and find niche programs that will make our College stand out.

As we draw close to the end of the first semester, I would be remiss if I did not comment on how impressed I have been with the level of commitment from the faculty and staff and the energy exhibited by the student body. Lake Erie College is a campus that wants progress and is taking steps to make it happen. From the updates to campus buildings and landscaping to the addition of new majors, the College is anything but stagnant.

Alumni have continued to stress to me the importance of campus traditions, and the students have echoed the importance. We will do our best to bring back the traditions of old (Mountain Day, Class Dinners, singing the alma mater, etc.) and look for ways to invent new ones that interest our current students. We have also been fortunate enough to receive more than $2.4 million in support from alumni and friends since July 1.

As I move forward in my presidency, I challenge you to look for ways that you can help build awareness of the College to those near to you. Whether it is alerting the admissions office to a potential student, sending in your annual fund donation or representing the College at a local event (contact the alumni office to find out how), you can make a difference.

Sincerely,

Michael T. Victor
President
Lake Erie College Graduates 190 Students During Sesquicentennial Ceremony

A look at the past and a glimpse into the future was the headlining theme as Lake Erie College graduated its 147th class during Commencement ceremonies held Sunday, May 7, 2006. The ceremony, highlighting the College’s 150 year anniversary, took place at 11 a.m. on the Campus Green in the center of campus.

One hundred forty-eight students of various ages received their undergraduate degrees. An additional 22 students were granted a master of business administration degree and 20 others received a master of science degree in education.

Invocation was led by Lisa Benedetti ’81, president of the National Alumni Association, and the crowd of more than 400 was welcomed by Interim President M. Sue Dreitzler. Class of 2006 representatives, Adam Foxx and Jane Roberts, presented the College with a class gift – a trophy case for use in the Athletic & Wellness Center.

The Commencement address was presented by Michael T. Victor, president-elect of the College. He was quickly interrupted by a special visitor, Mary Evans, first president of the College (portrayed by a local resident). Evans, who led the College from 1868–1909, encouraged the students to “carry the history of the College with you.” Addressing Michael Victor as “young man,” Evans told him “My time is past, your time is now.”

Victor reflected upon the 150-year legacy of the College and what awaits it in the future. He noted the differences between the world of Mary Evans and that of today’s students, noting that she witnessed more changes in American society during her years at the College than we will ever witness in our entire life, but that students all share identical aspirations and visions for the future…to be happy and successful. Victor shared his “Six Secrets of Happiness,” which included:
1.) Everything you need is inside of you – happiness is a decision you make
2.) All obstacles are lessons in disguise
3.) Never give up – make choices, take chances, make mistakes and show up every day
4.) Embrace discipline – work hard to fulfill your dreams
5.) Think for yourself – be bold and envision yourself living a life you love
6.) Have some fun. In closing, Victor encouraged the graduates to “Keep Lake Erie College alive in your heart.”

With Victor’s words of advice in their minds, students approached the stage to receive their degrees from Interim...
President Dreitzler. This emotional moment was heightened when Dreitzler announced that an honorary degree would be presented to the parents of Heather Stephenson, an equestrian student who passed away last year. Heather would have been among those graduating that day and the announcement came at the point in the ceremony where her name would have been called.

Once all of the degrees had been presented, the transfer of the chain of office took place, officially appointing Michael T. Victor president of Lake Erie College. Dr. Dennis Stevens, provost of the College, said of Victor, “It seems fitting that his first year in office will be the College’s 150th year.”

Elisabeth Giedt Receives Excellence in Teaching Award

This year’s recipient of the Excellence in Teaching Award was Dr. Elisabeth Giedt, D.V.M., professor of equine studies, whose unique and engaging teaching style earned her the award and a place in the hearts of the students whose lives she has touched.

“I thank my students for nominating me for this award and to all who have so patiently guided me in the teaching and learning experience,” said Giedt. “At challenging times in my life, I have been reminded of the camaraderie and support of a small school. I am proud to receive this formal recognition.”

Giedt has served as faculty member and Lake Erie College Equestrian Center veterinarian from 1987-1993 and 1998 to the present. She also works as a companion animal relief veterinarian, providing medical and surgical care to companion animals at area hospitals and is also in private equine practice, providing medical, surgical and reproductive care to horses at area farms.

Sue Dreitzler Receives Honorary Doctorate

Sue Dreitzler was honored for her long-standing dedication to the College with an honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters. Dreitzler’s history with the College dates back to 1978 when she joined the faculty as athletic director and assistant professor of physical education. Over the years, she served the College as dean of students, head of special projects, development officer and vice president of institutional advancement. She left the College in 1997 to become vice president of institutional advancement for the Northeastern Ohio Universities College of Medicine (NEOUCOM). Upon her retirement from NEOUCOM, she accepted the position of interim president at Lake Erie College, which she served from 2005-2006.

Sesquicentennial Medals Awarded During Commencement Exercises

To mark the occasion of the 150th anniversary of Lake Erie College, sesquicentennial medals were awarded to 12 individuals in recognition for their dedication and support to the College.

Honored as Sesquicentennial Fellows were:

Dr. Paul and Susan Belanger
A member of the Lake Erie faculty since 1976, Paul has taught 32 courses in biology, environmental science and physical science and has served on numerous standing faculty and College committees. A part-time faculty member since 1977, Susie has taught 23 different courses and has made the Environmental Science Resource Information Center (ESRIC) a wonderful resource for area teachers. Paul and Susie are most proud of the impact they have made on their students, who as alumni are now involved in a variety of important work while sharing their appreciation of the beauty and complexity of the natural world.

Suzanne H. Coen
Sue Coen began teaching at Lake Erie College in 1987 and has been associate dean of equine studies since 1997. In addition to her administrative responsibilities, Sue has taught a variety of classes in equine studies. She is most proud of the part she has played in assisting students to attain their academic and career goals and the achievements of the equine studies faculty in changing the program to keep up with the needs of the industry.

Robert Dickinson
Bob Dickinson served as a College trustee from 1970 to 1988, was chairman of the board for five years and is currently an emeritus trustee. He has generously supported a variety of projects at the College, including a named scholarship endowment, with significant gifts of time and financial resources. He and two of his daughters constituted the nucleus of the riding program when the Morley Farm was acquired, and he was instrumental in the building of the George M. Humphrey Equestrian Center and development of the equestrian program.

William Irrgang
The late William Irrgang, chairman and chief executive officer of the Lincoln Electric Company, was a trustee of Lake Erie College from 1960 through 1985 and chairman of the board from 1967 through 1985. During his tenure on the board, the Austin Hall of Science, James F. Lincoln Library and Jane White Lincoln Center for Physical Education and Recreation were built, Phillips School was instituted and Garfield Senior College became the first senior college in Ohio to award bachelor’s degrees to students with associate’s degrees.

Richard J. Kessler
Dick has been a member of the board of trustees since 2001 and chairman of the board for the past two years. During his tenure, Tracy Dickinson Hall and the Athletic & Wellness Center were built, enrollment has increased substantially, new records in giving have been achieved and a new president has been appointed. Dick has been intricately involved in the life of the College throughout this time of change and his leadership has been instrumental in moving the College forward.

The Roddick Fund
The Roddick Fund was established in 1987 through a bequest of Catherine Roddick who, with her sister Georgia, had been a lifetime Painesville resident and extremely active in the community. Since 1988, The Roddick Fund has given annual gifts to Lake Erie College for Catherine Roddick Endowed Scholarships, special projects and operating support. Accepting the sesquicentennial medallion for the Fund was Richard Johnson, president.

Dr. Charles E.P. Simmons
Charles Simmons was the seventh president of Lake Erie College, serving from 1977-84. During his presidency, the Jane White Lincoln Center for Physical Education and Recreation (which preceded the Athletic & Wellness Center) was opened, the weekend college and master of business administration programs began and the twins’ scholarship was initiated. Throughout...
Not every institution of higher education can boast that they have celebrated 150 years - in fact, only 8% of colleges or universities in the United States can make that claim. Lake Erie College is proud to mark the milestone and has celebrated with many events. Please enjoy the accompanying historical overview that reflects how yesterday's history has shaped the College into the outstanding institution it is today.

RE-LIVE HISTORY

THE FIRST 150 YEARS

While in Painesville, she was active with Forbes House, the American Association of University Women (AAUW), where she served as state president, the Indian Museum and the Women’s Policy and Research Commission for the State of Ohio.

Dr. Marilyn S. Jones Marilyn Jones was interim president of Lake Erie College from 1984-85, serving in the time of transition between Charles Simmons and Clodus Smith. She spent 10 years at Lake Erie College prior to joining the faculty of Notre Dame College in 1988.

Dr. Clodus R. Smith led the successful comprehensive $10 million capital campaign that resulted in improvements to College Hall, the Fine Arts Center, Morley Music Building and the George M. Humphrey Equestrian Center and directed an advancement program that led to increases in unrestricted and endowment gifts to the College. He spearheaded a comprehensive strategic planning process resulting in a detailed plan covering the period from 1989-1994 titled “Meeting the Challenges of a New Era.”

Paula Chaat Smith Paula has worn many hats during her lifetime—those of wife, mother, teacher, first lady, volunteer and advocate for women and Native Americans.

While in Painesville, she was active with Forbes House, the American Association of University Women (AAUW), where she served as state president, the Indian Museum and the Women’s Policy and Research Commission for the State of Ohio.
The Lake Erie College Sesquicentennial was celebrated in gala style at the Green and White Ball on Saturday, August 5, 2006. The Athletic and Wellness Center was transformed into a spectacular ballroom for the event. Ball chairs, Jean Stephenson and Peg Milbourn, along with their committee of alumni, College staff and community members, created a wonderful evening that introduced President Michael T. Victor and his family and celebrated the 150th birthday of the College.

More than 200 guests enjoyed cocktails, hor d'oeuvres and dinner prepared by the Executive Chefs of Metz and Associates. A birthday cake in the shape of the

A raffle was offered to guests with items ranging from golf packages at top courses in the area, to a handmade doll house with LEC accessories donated by Cathy Lincoln ’78. More than $5,000 was raised for a special Sesquicentennial Scholarships.

Special thanks to the Green and White Ball committee members: Peg Milbourn and Jean Stephenson, co-chairs, and members: Kristy Webster ’73, Carol Coatoam ’68, Nancy Drobnick ’69, Carol Matchinga ’69, Carley Hosler ’72, Lisa Benedetti ’81, Barbara Saifman, Jeanette Macy, Diane Strachan, Sally Gerboth, Lorrie Rowe, Barb Arilson, Cristine Boyd and Deb Remington ’74.

If you hear a rumble of thunder or see flashes of lightning coming from somewhere over Painesville, Coach Mark McNellie wants to warn you not to be concerned. He says, “It’s just the Lake Erie College Storm Football program getting revved up!”

That’s right – Football! Lake Erie College has added football to the ten intercollegiate sports it competes in within the NCAA Division III Allegheny Mountain Collegiate Conference and has entered an exploratory year with the NCAA to study potential reclassification to Division II status. The College’s board of directors unanimously approved the initiatives at its July 22 meeting.

With the College experiencing a phase of growth, President Victor believes a football program will add to the overall student experience as well as increase male enrollment. “College football is a sport that can be a great source of pride for a campus and the surrounding community,” he says. “And Coach McNellie is the perfect fit for the institution as it takes on this exciting challenge.”

McNellie grew up the son of a football coach, played through college and served as an assistant football coach for the past 19 years – 16 with Mercyhurst College in Pennsylvania and two with Fairmont State in West Virginia. A graduate of Baldwin-Wallace College, where he was a three-time football letterman, he earned a masters degree from West Virginia University. He and his wife, Jennifer, have three children, Calvin (8), Carson (5) and Raegan (2). They reside in Concord, Ohio.

Building a new team will be a challenge, but it is one that McNellie has dreamed about for as long as he can remember. His energies will be focused on building young men of character whom he will ask to contribute to campus academically and socially as well as athletically. “Building a program won’t be easy, but we’re going to be aggressive, positive and determined. We will do it the old fashioned way through hard work and integrity,” he says.

LAKE ERIE COLLEGE
Invades the Region with Enrollment Blitz

LAKE ERIE COLLEGE IS SPECIAL.

It is a dynamic campus and an extraordinary place to earn a degree. Alumni and friends know this, but now it’s time that the Greater Cleveland, Akron, Erie and Youngstown areas learn about the College too, which is why we are hitting the radio air waves and invading larger-than-life billboard spaces.

The College recently kicked off a new marketing campaign to let prospective students know that once they get in to Lake Erie College, they have an abundance of opportunities to stand out – in academics, athletics and campus life. Prospective students will also learn that they not only stand out during their time at LEC, but even afterwards in their career field. The campaign features 26 of our outstanding students.

Billboards will be posted in the greater Cleveland, Akron, Erie, Youngstown and Grove City areas and radio ads will be played on the following stations: WAKS FM 96.5 Cleveland, WRTS FM 103.7 Erie, WAKZ FM 95.9 Youngstown, WCPR FM 90.3 Cleveland and WQLN FM 91.3 Erie. Listen and view with pride over the next couple of months as everyone will soon know about the hidden jewel of the Western Reserve you call your Alma Mater!

In addition to advertising, the theme is carrying into admissions materials such as flyers, postcards and brochures. The website also has a new book cover to promote student visitation and a new promotion offers a free iTunes gift card to any student who visits campus.

If you know a student who wants to get in and stand out, let us know! Visit www.lec.edu/alumni, and follow the link to the student referral form. We will send them information right away!

LAKE ERIE COLLEGE
GET IN. STAND OUT™
New Areas of Study are Offered to Students at Lake Erie College
— Four majors and two areas of concentration introduced —

Students at Lake Erie College now have new learning opportunities as new majors and areas of concentration have been introduced for fall 2006. New majors include sports management, marketing, management, history and a new pre-professional program (medical, veterinary, dental, pharmaceutical). New areas of concentration include forensic psychology and therapeutic horsemanship.

“Lake Erie College is taking a whole new look at what we offer students and how we can best fit their needs,” said President Michael Victor. “Many of our students have been asking for these majors and areas of concentration and we found ways to make them a reality. Our faculty and administration will be investigating many other areas over the course of the school year and we hope to add additional majors and concentrations for the following school year.”

Concentrations

- Forensic Psychology — The forensic psychology concentration is offered as an option for psychology majors and offers students a comprehensive study into the application of the science and profession of psychology to questions and issues relating to law and the legal system.

- Therapeutic Horsemanship — A complementary program to our nationally-recognized equine program, the therapeutic horsemanship concentration offers students an in-depth look into the application of therapeutic riding. Students also have the opportunity to gain the credentials of the North American Riding for the Handicapped Association (NARHA) and become a certified instructor. The concentration also offers students a unique opportunity to work with Fieldstone Farms, one of the largest, most established therapeutic riding centers in country.

Majors

- Sports Management — Encouraged by the rapid growth of the sports management industry, the number of athletes on the Lake Erie College campus and increased interest in the sports management concentration formerly offered, the College made the decision to offer sports management as a major. The sports management major requires course work in the five various areas of business administration, as well as courses specific to the field of sports management.

- Marketing — Formerly offered as a concentration within the business administration major, the new marketing major will give students an in-depth study into courses in the areas of international marketing, consumer behavior, marketing research and promotional strategy along with general business administration courses.

- Management — The management major is designed to give students in-depth exposure to specific areas of management compared to the more broad-based business administration major. Students will complete coursework in the areas of leadership, organizational change and quality management in addition to general business administration courses.

- History — The history major requires course work in the areas of American, Western Civilization/European and world history as well as courses in geography, philosophy or religion and intercultural studies.

- Pre-Health Professions — This major prepares students for admittance to medical, pharmacy, dental or veterinary school and future careers in these fields. Students enrolled in this program will take biology, chemistry and math courses in their first year and will then meet with a faculty member of the pre-health professions committee to determine their future eligibility and advisement in the program. Those who continue in the program will enjoy a unique mentoring program to assist them in achieving acceptance at the future graduate program of their choice.
In its 150th anniversary, the campus is currently undergoing a bit of a facelift. Cosmetic changes have been made to several buildings and new landscape has been introduced to maintain the historic feel and campus beauty.

“Lake Erie College is an absolutely breathtaking campus and we want to do our best to make sure it retains that beauty,” said President Michael Victor. “We hope that these improvements are just the beginning and will allow many people to discover Lake Erie College all over again.”

New shrubs, flowers and grass have been planted and the beds have been edged and mulched to add to the beauty of the landscaping. Newly paved sidewalks have not only added to the appearance of campus, but to the ease of navigation for students with disabilities.

While the exterior woodwork of Kilcawley Hall has been scraped and painted the president’s office was given new carpet and furniture. Renovations have also been completed in the alumni suite of the building to create a more inviting area for visiting alumni and friends. The space formerly occupied by the Indian Museum has been renovated to house the human resources department.

Both the Manor House and George M. Humphrey Equestrian Center have also undergone several cosmetic changes. The landscaping on the estate has received attention and decorative planters have been added. The entire first floor of the house has been repainted or wallpapered and new carpet has been added and the furniture recovered. The outside of the house was also scraped and repainted. The barns at the equestrian center were also given a fresh coat of paint before the students returned.

Receiving the most attention this summer was the main floor of College Hall, which includes Social Parlor. A new coat of paint was added, along with new carpet and decorations to ensure a welcoming atmosphere for prospective students and their families.

Last, but certainly not least, is the reconstruction of Morley Music Hall, both inside and out. In addition to the new roof, the Skinner Organ was restored off-campus and reinstalled. The chamber, which stores the organ pipes, has been repainted, the stage has been redone and the pews will soon be renovated.

The portrait of Mary Evans now hangs in the renovated President’s office.

The reconstruction of the Morley Music Hall is magnificent.

The admission parlors in College Hall now provide a beautiful waiting area for prospective students.
New York Business Trip

A group of twelve students from Lake Erie College’s Business Students’ Association (BSA) went on an excursion to New York this April, where they visited the financial centers of the city. Dr. Rabi Hasan, advisor of the Business Students’ Association, and professor Julie Ziemak accompanied the students as they visited a number of landmarks, including the New York Stock Exchange.

Some of the sights that students most enjoyed were the United Nations headquarters, where they took a tour, the New York Stock Exchange, where students visited the boardroom and were given the opportunity to ask questions of an NYSE executive, and the museum of financial history, which featured a display on how to identify counterfeit bills. Students also visited several cultural landmarks, including the Statue of Liberty, Central Park and the Museum of Modern Art.

Equine Scholarships

Sophomore Ashley Watson was awarded the Heather Stevenson Scholarship in honor of late LEC student Heather Stephenson. This scholarship is awarded from the Intercollegiate Dressage Association team.

Employee of the Year

Lorrie Rowe was selected as outstanding staff employee of the year for the 2005-2006 academic year. She was chosen by a six-member committee comprised of faculty, staff and students. Lorrie has worked at the College for more than ten years as executive associate, office of the president and assistant to the board of director.

IDA

Lake Erie College earned Reserve Championship status at the International Dressage Association (IDA) National Championships. The event took place April 29-30 at Saint Andrews Presbyterian College in North Carolina. Twelve teams from across the country competed at the event after qualifying in regional competitions. The Lake Erie College team consisted of four riders, Cecily Bonadio ‘06 of California, Christine Talbert ‘06 of Massachusetts, Karen Rauff ‘06 of New York and Darcy Bornemann ‘09 of Iowa. Lake Erie College has a great history of success at the IDA Championships. The team was national champions in 2005, placed fifth in 2004 and was reserve champion in 2003.

Borchert and Belanger Earn Emeritus Status

The board of directors unanimously voted to grant Dr. Susan Borchert the rank of Professor Emeritus of Sociology and Dr. Paul Belanger the rank of Professor Emeritus of Biology. Borchert served as associate professor of sociology from 1991-2000 and professor of sociology from 2000-2005. She retired from the College in 2005. Belanger served on the faculty since 1976 and retired from the College in 2006.

Wireless Access

Lake Erie is pleased to announce that many buildings on campus now allow for wireless internet connections. The Holden Center, Library, Equestrian Center and Morley Music Hall are all currently wireless ready!
Retirement Plans Remain Hopeful

Retirement parties are a time of reflection and well wishes for those moving on to the next stage in their career. Such was the case for faculty members Susan Coen, Paul Belanger and Susan Belanger at their combined "retirement party" in May, 2006.

Paul and Susan Belanger have been fixtures in the Science department of the College for more than 30 years and have been a source of knowledge and inspiration to many Lake Erie College students. Their colleague, Sue Coen has contributed to Lake Erie College and the equine program for almost 20 years and has also led the department as associate dean. The combined experience of these three individuals has helped to shape Lake Erie College and the positive educational experience that our students encounter.

Although the retirement wishes have been well-meaning, two of the three individuals have not yet actually "retired" as of the printing of this publication. At the end of the academic year, Paul and Susie Belanger traveled for three weeks with a College study tour, and after one week off, Paul Belanger returned to campus as interim academic dean. Sue Coen also returned to campus this fall and resumed her duties as associate dean while the search for her replacement continues.

Best wishes to these three wonderful members of the Lake Erie family!

Athletes of the Year

Justin Daly and Loni Sargent have been named as the Male and Female Athletes of the Year for 2005-06 at Lake Erie College. Daly is a junior member of the men’s soccer team while Sargent is a three-sport athlete, competing on the LEC women’s soccer, basketball and softball squads. Both hail from Hubbard, Ohio, and attended Hubbard High.

Also honored are LEC’s Freshmen of the Year, Angela Bethel for the women and Paul Roskos for the men. Bethel, of Beavercreek, Ohio and Miami Valley School, set the school’s single season soccer scoring marks with 22 goals and 49 points. She also started on the basketball team, averaging 11.9 ppg and leading the team with 46 three-point field goals. Roskos, of Timberlake, Ohio and Eastlake North High, set school records with a 3.27 earned run average and 63.1 innings pitched for the Lake Erie baseball team. He won four games on the mound as the team set a school mark for victories with 16. He was also a member of the LEC golf team.

Earning the school’s Academic Athlete of the Year Awards were Jack Lutzeier for the men and Jen Dodge for the women. Lutzeier, a senior from Basalt, Colo., and Basalt High, was a starter on the AMCC champion men’s basketball team and averaged 4.8 points and 3.0 rebounds per game while posting a 3.79 Grade Point Average for the year. He graduated in May with a bachelor’s degree in exercise science. Dodge, a junior from Painesville, Ohio, and Riverside High, hit .286 as the right fielder, earning second team all-AMCC honors for the record-setting softball team. She also competed on the cross country team. In the classroom, the communications major posted a GPA of 3.31.

Planning Grant

Lake Erie College recently received a $10,000 planning grant from the Burton D. Morgan Foundation and the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation to assist in the development of a campus-wide entrepreneurship initiative. The College is competing with eight other liberal arts institutions and will present a plan to be “judged” by the Foundations in the hopes of obtaining full funding.

“Lake Erie College is very committed to entrepreneurialism and encourages its student body to be creative and resourceful in all of their endeavors,” said Robert Trebar, associate dean of management studies. “We will utilize the planning funds to develop a detailed plan proposal that will impact both our students and the northeast Ohio communities in which we operate.”

Internship Program Targets Entrepreneurial Businesses

Student growth in entrepreneurial business is the theme behind Lake Erie College’s recent receipt of a $43,750 grant from the Fenn Educational Fund. The College will utilize the grant money over the 2006-2007 academic school year to fund a program called Interns and Mentors Assisting the Growth of Entrepreneurs in Lake County, or IMAGE LC. The program will provide Lake Erie College interns to the growing sector of entrepreneurial businesses, particularly Latino businesses, in the Lake County area.

“We believe that by helping students secure internships with entrepreneurial companies in the region, we are helping them to have a unique experience that may have a long-standing impact on their future career choices and involvement in the northeast Ohio region,” said President Michael Victor. “This program benefits not only the students and businesses, but the Northeast Ohio economy, particularly Lake County.”

Alumna Gift to Benefit College

Ties to Lake Erie College exist long after alumni leave campus. One local alumna who recently remembered the College in her estate was Painesville-native Mary Weixel Novak. Novak attended Lake Erie in the late 1930s and upon her death, left a bequest worth approximately $690,000 to the College to provide scholarships in honor of her two sons, Thomas and Michael.

“This kind of gift is very special to the institution,” said President Michael Victor. “Not only does it provide significant support to students, but it also inspires others to be charitable. We are proud and grateful to be remembered by Mary Novak,” he added.

Being charitable was in Novak’s nature as she bestowed gifts to Kent State University and three additional organizations. For years, she also provided free housing for those in need.
Chris (Lapp) Donahower recently visited China, enjoying all the tourist attractions as well as sites off the beaten path. Chris found China to be a fascinating study in contrasts, boasting the world’s tallest building in Shanghai as well as extremely primitive conditions in the countryside.

Sue (Wells) Demidovich was able to work in a stopover with Chris while visiting her newest grandchild in Lancaster, Pa.

Jeanne (Bruno) Cathcart and husband Bob toured Egypt and Jordan this spring. From viewing the pyramids to floating on the Dead Sea, Jeanne writes that the sites were beyond expectations and the people great.

Barbara (Gould) Pelowski has been serving as the director of new ministries at St. Paul’s Episcopal Church in Cleveland Heights, Ohio. Barbara and her husband, Jim, are involved in the lives of their grandsons, Noah (6) and James (4), who live in Ridgefield, Conn., with their parents Elizabeth (Pelowski) and Ken Isaacson.

In the past year, Barbara and Jim have visited Richard and Polly (Marcy) Spaulding, Steve and Linda (Siegel) Greyser and Bob and Kathy (Miller) Allen ’72.

Nick Johnson started his teaching career at a public school, which was formed to handle nontraditional students; handicapped, behavior problems, slow learners and pregnant teens. This position led to his career of working with people with developmental disabilities.

He was then asked to travel to Phoenix, Az., to work in a new residential and day program being developed by the state’s Division of Developmental Disabilities. Afterwards, he became the adult services program coordinator for Maricopa County and earned a master of education degree in Special Education from Arizona State University. Not wanting to sit behind a desk, he and his wife, Peggy, bought Kastle Preschools, running two campuses for seven years.

Next, he worked for a private company that provided services to developmentally disabled adults throughout Arizona. He became the regional director for Gila and Pinal Counties, overseeing adult group homes and vocational workshops, and developing supported employment jobs.

Wanting to return to the younger population, he became a certified special education teacher. He continues to teach the district’s lowest-functioning, non-verbal, multiply-handicapped children during their kindergarten through fifth-grade years.

He and Peggy play volleyball almost every Thursday, while also getting out in the wilderness. Last summer, they did a private trip down the Middle Fork of the Salmon River in Idaho. This summer took a cruise from New York to Halifax.

Virginia “Ginny” DeVasto lives in Vallejo, Calif., where she is turning positives into negatives. Diagnosed with cancer, for the second time, she remains in good spirits by wearing animal hats versus a wig. Animals are a big part of her life, as is saving the planet. DeVasto is the lady one turns to when someone can no longer take care of their four-legged friend. She cares for the animals until she can find them a more permanent home.

When DeVasto is not undergoing chemotherapy treatments or working at a Benicia gym, she is focusing her efforts on an environmental ministry in which she launched in May 2004 at her church, Napa Valley Center for Spiritual Living. She compiles monthly fliers that include tips on how to make more earth-friendly choices as well.

Cynthia (Panton) Mills has published her second book titled, “Bring the Dead to Life.” Here is a synopsis of the book:

Haunted by the deaths of her brother and her fiancé, British Army nurse Louise Whiting is posted to France during the horrors of the Battle of the Somme in the summer of 1916. Her choice to nurse the most difficult head wound cases brings a comatose soldier with no name to her ward. The search for his identity, and her determination to resurrect him, becomes her obsessions. As he begins to recover, Louise, who has fallen in love with him, discovers the secrets of his previous existence. Louise must confront her own past as she learns the truth about her patient.

The book can be purchased online by visiting www.lulu.com.

Nicholas “Nick” Gustin left his position with Erie Shores to become the assistant golf pro at Firethorne Country Club in Marvin, N.C. He runs the pro shop and represents the course by playing in tournaments. Last August, Gustin beat 87 other golfers to qualify for the USGA Mid-Amateur Championship. Feeling as if it’s a farfetched dream, he would like to experience playing in a PGA event.

In addition to changing jobs, he made another life change when he married Julie Farina on July 21, 2006. She accepted a teaching position in Clover, S.C., about a half-hour from Marvin.

Gail Greenberg (MSE), library media specialist at Giddings Elementary School in Cleveland, was selected to participate in a national teacher training workshop held at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa., in July. The week-long workshop was entitled, "Landmarks of the Underground Railroad.” Participants combined travel to Underground Railroad sites in Pennsylvania and West Virginia with sessions by leading scholars, to learn strategies for effectively incorporating the stories of the Underground Railroad and the coming of the Civil War in their teaching.

Georgiana “Georgie” (Fust) Patterson

Georgiana “Georgie” (Fust) Patterson ’48, has always had an adventurous side that dates back to her hitchhiking days in Vermont, before she arrived at Lake Erie College.

Patterson liked to dabble in a variety of activities such as tennis, hockey, shot put and basketball. She even co-wrote the junior play, but was unable to perform when she came down with an appendicitis — she’s still a bit disappointed today. Though, Patterson recalls her adventurous side has gotten her in trouble at times, often being “campused.”

After college, she ventured out to New York, where she spent a year teaching at The Dalton School. While there, she stayed at the Barbizon Hotel, a place in which young women retreated to after leaving the traditional family home in search of career opportunities. The Barbizon later hosted many social, intellectual and athletic activities and, in recent years attracted a variety of famous tenants, including entertainers Grace Kelly, Candice Bergen and Liza Minnelli.

Patterson left the progressive teaching environment of The Dalton School and entered the third- and fourth-grade classroom, which is where her passion lied before focusing on motherhood. Now her passion is her grandchildren, golf and needlepoint. She also enjoys wintering in Vero Beach, Fla. Returning to her adventurous days, Patterson is spending more time in Erie, trying to stay out of trouble.

Three study trips were conducted in May and included 81 student travelers. Trips embarked to Greece, Belize and a highlight trip to France, Austria, Germany and Switzerland was also conducted.

“This has been more than a trip for me. Words cannot explain my true feelings. I haven’t smiled this much in my life.” – Reggie Richardson ’06

“This was by far the most meaningful and most educational experience of my college career.” – Jack Lutzeir ’06

“…without this experience, I would not have had the ability to reach out of my comfort zone…it really helped me to grow and mature into a better person.” – Amanda Boyd ’07
Louise Price was an institution at Lake Erie College from 1956 through 1972. For those of us who attended the College during the Louise Price years, we remember her as a formidable woman; ruling College Hall with grace, dignity and an iron fist.

To honor Mrs. Price, the Class of 1960 is spearheading a project to renovate and name social parlor the Louise Price Social Parlor. The goal is $100,000 by the end of this Fall.

As the College celebrates its 150th birthday, we wish to assist with the preservation of buildings and spaces that were important to us during our college tenure. We strongly believe that it is the alumni’s role to keep the history and traditions of our alma mater alive for future graduates; honoring the people who helped shaped the College and our lives.

We are asking for your help with this very important project. Louise Price is certainly deserving of a permanent memorial – and what better place than the Social Parlor.

Best regards from the class of ’60,
Janet Bullinger • Kathie Havener
Jean Long • Delores Saada

For more information on donating to the Louise Price Social Parlor Fund, call Deb at 800/533-4996 x 7224 or email alumni@lec.edu.

Memories of Louise Price...

The Class of 1960 remembers Mrs. Price as being “fair and reasonable”. One classmate recalls Louise’s comments concerning some of their LEC songs…

“Why not sing some nice songs instead of all those naughty ones.”
